In today's fast working competitive corporate world, distance education is perhaps the only means for working professionals to learn and enhance their knowledge while continuing to work. C-PGDBA, is first one of its kind in India, based on the "Learn while you earn" philosophy. This program combines advantages of distance learning with features such as frequent live classroom faculty interaction and mentorship from academicians for additional academic support. The program focuses on strategizing the complexities of a business situation.

C-PGDBA is designed to master the fundamentals of management principles, latest theories and best practices in business. Students are prepared to face a challenging market by getting knowledge of general management learnings, the current market trends and also IT skills to compete in today's IT savvy world.
